Texts for the Liturgical Service

Troparion (Tone 1)

When the stone had been sealed by the Jews, / while the soldiers were guarding Thy most pure body, / Thou didst rise on the third day, O Savior, granting life to the world. / The powers of heaven therefore cried to Thee, O Giver of Life: / “Glory to Thy Resurrection, O Christ! / Glory to Thy Kingdom! // Glory to Thy dispensation, O thou who lovest of mankind!”

Troparion (Tone 2 – Sunday of Orthodoxy)

We venerate Thy most pure image, O Good One; / and ask forgiveness of our transgressions, O Christ our God. / Of Thy good will Thou wast pleased to ascend the Cross in the flesh / and deliver Thy creatures from bondage to the Enemy. / Therefore with thankfulness we cry aloud to Thee: / “Thou hast filled all with joy, O our Savior, // for Thou alone hast come to save the world.”

Kontakion (Tone 1)

As God, Thou didst rise from the tomb in glory, / raising the world with Thyself. / Human nature praises Thee as God, for death has vanished. / Adam exults, O Master! / Eve rejoices, for she is freed from bondage and cries to Thee: // “Thou art the Giver of Resurrection to all, O Christ!”

Kontakion (Tone 8 – Lenten Triodion)

No one could describe the Word of the Father; / but when He took flesh from thee, O Theotokos, He accepted to be described, / and restored the fallen image to its former state by uniting it to divine beauty // We confess and proclaim our salvation in words and images.

Prokeimenon (Tone 4)

Blessed art Thou, O Lord God of our Fathers / and praised and glorified is Thy Name forever! v. For Thou art just in all that Thou hast done for us!

Epistle Reading: Hebrews 11:24-26,32-12:2

By faith Moses, when he became of age, refused to be called the son of Pharaoh's daughter, choosing rather to suffer affliction with the people of God than to enjoy the passing pleasures of sin, esteeming the reproach of Christ greater riches than the treasures in Egypt; for he looked to the reward. And what more shall I say? For the time would fail me to tell of Gideon and Barak and Samson and Jephthah, also of David and Samuel and the prophets: who through faith subdued kingdoms, worked righteousness, obtained promises, stopped the mouths of lions, quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weakness were made strong, became valiant in battle, turned to flight the armies of the aliens. Women received their dead raised to life again. Others were tortured, not accepting deliverance, that they might obtain a better resurrection. Still others had trial of mockings and scourgings, yes, and of chains and imprisonment. They were stoned, they were sawn in two, were tempted, were slain with the sword. They wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins, being destitute, afflicted, tormented – of whom the world was not worthy. They wandered in deserts and mountains, in dens and caves of the earth. And all these, having obtained a good testimony through faith, did not receive the promise, God having provided something better for us, that they should not be made perfect apart from us. Therefore we also, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which so easily ensnares us, and let us run with endurance the race that is set before us, looking unto Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith, who for the joy that was set before Him endured the cross, despising the shame, and has sat down at the right hand of the throne of God. Alleluia (3x's) (Tone 8)

v. Moses and Aaron were among His priest; Samuel also was among those who called on His name. Alleluia (3x's)

v. They called to the Lord and he answered them. Alleluia (3x's)

Gospel Reading: John 1:43-51

The following day Jesus wanted to go to Galilee, and He found Philip and said to him, "Follow Me." Now Philip was from Bethsaida, the city of Andrew and Peter. Philip found Nathanael and said to him, "We have found Him of whom Moses in the law, and also the prophets, wrote – Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph." And Nathanael said to him, "Can anything good come out of Nazareth?" Philip said to him, "Come and see." Jesus saw Nathanael coming toward Him, and said of him, "Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom is no deceit!" Nathanael said to Him, "How do You know me?" Jesus answered and said to him, "Before Philip called you, when you were under the fig tree, I saw you." Nathanael answered and said to Him, "Rabbi, You are the Son of God! You are the King of Israel!" Jesus answered and said to him, "Because I said to you, 'I saw you under the fig tree,' do you believe? You will see greater things than these." And He said to him, "Most assuredly, I say to you, hereafter you shall see heaven open, and the angels of God ascending and descending upon the Son of Man."

Communion Hymn:

Praise the Lord from the heavens! Praise him in the highest!

Rejoice in the Lord, O you righteous! Praise befits the upright! Alleluia (3x's)

First Sunday of Great Lent: Sunday of Orthodoxy [March 20th]

Originally, the Prophets Moses, Aaron, and Samuel were commemorated on this Sunday. The Alleluia verses appointed for today's Liturgy reflect this older usage.

Today on this first Sunday of Lent, we commemorate the "Triumph of Orthodoxy," the victory of the Orthodox faith over heresies, and the restoration of the holy icons during the reign of the holy Empress Theodora (February 11).

The Holy Fathers who assembled in the Ecumenical Councils between the fourth and eighth centuries established the correct teaching about the divinity of the Son of God and the Holy Spirit, as well as the true veneration of icons. The Sunday of Orthodoxy reminds us about this struggle against and victory over heretics, one that is synthesized in the reestablishment of the veneration of icons.

The icon is a window toward the Absolute that reveals to us the transfigured world, the world of those who partake in divine grace and bring us this transfiguration, which is holiness. The representation of saints in icons, following the representation of the Savior, is justified by the incarnation of the Word of God: "And the Word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory, the glory as of the only begotten of the Father, full of grace and truth" (John 1:14). But the icon is based not only on the incarnation of the Son of God but also on His resurrection.

Without Christ's resurrection the icon would not be a representation of transfigured life but only a commemorative painting. This means that the icon brings God among us, while it also raises us to the understanding of our life as participation in the life of God. This is Christian life revealed by the icon – the human person restored as the image of God, the human person moving toward holiness, toward the brightness of the image of God shining on his face.

This image of God restored in the face of one's neighbor is revealed by IOCC in its entire ministry of help to our brethren in need. In the face of our suffering brother, we discover the suffering Christ. In helping one who is suffering, we discover the image of Christ and give it back to the world. The one who is saved from suffering and helped in his need becomes again the bearer of the luminous image of Christ, the Christian on the pathway of holiness.

We who participate become partakers in the ministry of God fulfilled in the world unto our own healing and sanctification. The proper veneration of icons is an opportunity for us to penetrate the mystery of our own life and our neighbor's life, to understand the value of the human person – our own, but also that of our neighbor
